

2009 Summer Professional Development Opportunities Morehead State University

WOW! Wonders of Wetlands, July 6

Flying WILD, July 7

Project Learning Tree, July 13

Food, Land & People, July 14

Take them all or just one – your choice.

You can either sign up for each workshop individually or take all of them. If you want to become a facilitator in any of the programs you must attend on the Thursday following the workshop to complete the remaining hours. Additional hours for a facilitator certificate in Flying WILD will be held on July 9th. PLT and FLP additional facilitator hours will be completed on July 16th. The workshops run from 8 am to 4 pm (with a lunch break).

The fee schedule is as follows:

WOW! Wonders of Wetlands - $20

Flying WILD – Free for everyone

Project Learning Tree -- $20 and $30 for facilitators

Food, Land and People -- $25

Need college graduate credit?

If you can sign up for SCI 676 and get credit for actively participating in the workshops listed above. Attendance is required on July 6, 7, 9, 13, 14, and 16 from 8 am to 4 pm, to receive course credit and certificates. If you are registered for SCI 676 there is no fee for the workshops.

MSU is also offering BIOL 654, Environmental Biology, June 13-19.

Workshop Registration

More information or to register for the workshops contact April Haight by email at a.haight@moreheadstate.edu or by phone (606) 783-2455. Leave all your contact information. Payment on the workshops (if not taking SCI 676) can be made to the Environmental Education Center, LC101A IRAPP, Morehead, KY 40351.

This professional development opportunity is funded by the Institute for Regional Analysis, Regional Engagement, MSU Science Education Program, and Council for Environmental Education.